and J Sparrey. D Lawson (Clerk)

2494 PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

The Chairman moved the public participation session to the start of the meeting as members of the public were already present

Sally Smith, Dougie McColm and Mark Austin outlined the traffic problems being experienced by residents of Flitton Hill with speeding traffic, inconsiderate driving and the death of several household pets on the road. They all feared that a worse accident may occur without intervention to control the driving behaviour which extends down to the A507, where there had been at least one fatality and other accidents at the junction point. A survey had been conducted among almost all households and they were in favour of hard traffic control measures, along with other possible suggestions to alleviate or control the traffic. The situation has become worse recently for a variety of reasons; one being that the chicanes had exacerbated the problem, so that when drivers reached the Hill there was 'frustrated' speeding out of the village. The new speed reduction measures introduced earlier in the year had done little to help in either direction. Residents asked that the Council make traffic control on Flitton Hill a priority in any future years highway spending and that this may be matched by CBC joint funding.

Councillor Jamieson clarified that he could seek to obtain match funding from the Highway Authority for a raised table but the timing for any Parish application for next year was not known yet. He also stated that he was exploring the possibility of a No Right-hand turn onto the A507 from Flitton Hill, although this would have to be subject to consultation.

It was also pointed out the Council has other traffic issues within the Parish and that these would have to be considered alongside those of Flitton Hill. Cllr Ellis agreed that he would speak to the Police about speed watch on the hill and lead the Councils discussion with Amey to include the residents The Chairman thanked Sally, Dougie and Mark for their presentation

Liz Coulson outlined the problems being experienced in Pulloxhill Road (which falls into the Parishes of both Greenfield and Pulloxhill) by the school traffic and inconsiderate parking by parents at school drop off and pick up times. She pointed out the dangers of parking being allowed on the brow of the Hill and parking on the zigzag lines which is a traffic offence and causes a hazard because it is the only pull in point on the road when it becomes single track due to parking. The whole situation is made worse when school traffic is mixed with lorries from the industrial estate and the fear is that it could lead to a serious accident or a fatality. Residents of the Woodland Estate also risk an accident every time they try to pull out of the estate because the visible is narrowed by parked cars and they have to pull out blind. Liz also commented that the chicanes appear to create frustration in the Parish leading to speeding and requested that the Parish Council consider speed humps instead.

There was a full discussion about what measures could be taken including the demolition and site preparation work of approx £8000 and was applying for other grants including £10,000 from Biffa Award to complete the project. He outlined the project brief and use of the Barn as a cultural heritage centre for the Flit Valley to exhibit the work of local artists including the late Jack Crawley. He said he felt he would have better success applying for grants if other funding had already been secured.

Councillors questioned the security of the site and how any potential vandalism would be handled and it was confirmed that the road access would remain closed so there would only be access on foot and the site is already fairly well protected, so that it should not present any additional security risk.
The Chairman thanked Dave for his presentation and confirmed that a decision on funding would be made later in the meeting.  Angela Ayres explained to Councillors that it is no longer possible to get Flit'n' More printed free and that the Parochial Church Council (PCC) need assistance with funding. She said that Flit'n' More had been produced by her for 10 years and was a PCC initiative. It contains a minimal number of adverts and this generates a small income for the PCC. Quotes for printing costs now suggest publication in a similar format could be about £1000 per year. In total 650 copies of a 20 page booklet are made each quarter and these are distributed free to all households. Angela is the sole editor and from experience knows that there is normally a tight printing deadline to include copy sent in by other contributors, so a flexible printing supplier needs to be found
Since its inception the magazine has become much more of a community newsletter used by several organisations including the Parish Council and she had been grateful for the previous support towards its costs.  Various members of the Council agreed to provide details of printers they had used so that a variety of quotes could be obtained and Angela said she would firm up the process of getting quotes if she was successful.  The Chairman thanked Angela for her presentation and confirmed that a decision on funding would be made later in the meeting.
2495 APOLOGIES AND SPECIFIC DECLARATIONS OF INTEREST Councillor K. Wright, S. Phillips (Vice Chair), P. Woodland and D Jobling
Declarations of Interest: Councillor M Lowe declared an interest relating
